BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. T. B. Tippett gave a party in celebration of the fourteenth birthday of her grandson, Miller Marple, on August fourth.

Various games were played throughout the evening and the boys had a most delightful time. The honor guest received a number of gifts, with most appreciation. Not the least enjoyable part of the evening was the refreshments of ice cream, angel food, and minis. The following boys were present: Miller Marple, Orison Marple, Arch Cassidy, Robert Bishop, James Staley, Ted Croswell, Junior Evans, Talmadge McClure, Marvin Bosard, Woodrow Raley, Watt Pritchard, Jr., Alden Robinson, Raymond Allen, William Caudill, Fred Caudill, Hilarie Hurt, William Elder and Robert Elder.

JUDGE PREWITT AND HON. W. C. HAMILTON WINN RACE

Judge H. R. Prewitt, of Mt. Sterling, won the nomination, August 6th, for Circuit Judge, over his opponent D. B. Caudill, of this city.

W. C. Hamilton won the nomination for Commonwealth's Attorney, over his two opponents, E. M. R. Hurt, of this city and Dan Doggett, of Owingsville. The defeated candidates are all nice gentlemen and took their defeat good humoredly.

Judge Prewitt has been on the bench in this Judicial District for seven years and needs no comment from our pen, as he is well known over the district in which he has presided.

Mr. Hamilton needs no comment from us either, he has held this office for the past twelve years and has certainly made a good attorney for this district.

Charley Hogge, of Gates, won the race for Circuit Court Clerk, over his opponents, Everett Gaston, who lives near Morehead and Charley Bradley, from the Big Brushy neighborhood, by a majority of 283. There were no Republican nominees for this district. Jennings was declared the nominee, he having no opponent in the primary. It is now the two Charleys for the November election.

E. E. Elam, of Clearfield, who was running for the Republican nomination for Representative from the Bath-Rowan District, carried this county by a nice majority, but Mr. Garner's majority in Bath county elected him as the Republican nominee for this district.

These are the local races, you will find the state election news in other columns of the Scorchers.

MISS PALMER WINS

Miss Kathleen Palmer, of Owingsville, was nominated for Circuit Court Clerk of Bath county by a plurality of 705 votes. Miss Palmer received 1305 votes, her opponents, W. D. Bailey, 690, and C. S. He Will Go Back To Senate For The Next Four Years

The most sweeping victory that has ever been given a candidate in Eastern Kentucky, if not the entire Commonwealth, was that of Senator Young, who was re-elected to the 31st Senatorial District.

Senator Young was opposed by Hon. Charles L. Daly, a most estimable gentleman from Mason county, but the Democracy of the District well knowing the invaluable services rendered by Senator Young not only in securing the first appropriation of State funds to be expended East of Lexington since the birth of the state but also giving unstintingly of his time and talent in fostering many worthy projects which affected every county in the District from Powell to Mason, desired to endorse his every action as its Senator. Senator Young swept every county in his district except Mason and rolled up an unequalled majority of 5,177 over his opponent.

Old Rowan gave her foremost citizen such a tribute as should warm the heart of any citizen, 1242 votes to 117 for his opponent.

Whoever gave aid or encouragement to any man to oppose Senator Young, thereby misjudged the temper of his people.

Our neighboring county of Bath paid him beautiful compliment, when she rolled up the enormous majority of 1700 for him.

Old Fleming who has had many great and honored sons to spring from her soil forgot not her duty toward this son, and too joined ranks with an unequalled majority of 1754 for Young.

Menacee not to be outdone and wishing again to honor one who had graced the Bench in her judicial district answered the roll with 743 majority.

Last but not least came Powell, though a newcomer into the fold, she too had felt the benefits from the Senators stewardship at Frankfort, was glad to be honored by one so well qualified to represent her in the Senate of Kentucky and joining the ranks returned a majority of 284 for Young.

The editor of this paper knowing well Senator Young's ability and influence throughout the State and being conscious of his outstanding leadership in the Senate of Kentucky during the last sessions now calls upon each of the citizenship of this District to support Senator Young whole heartedly and untiedly and to withdraw all semblance of opposition to him even from the toughest party and make his election now an assured fact.

The people of this District have in their Senator a man worthy to grace the high and honored Governorship of this State and they are only too happy to have Senator Young to serve them, knowing full well that he is making a great personal sacrifice to do so, yet realizing that the things nearest his heart, and which he wishes to complete was first the great educational institution, the Normal School, and a second as a dream fulfilled a complete system of model roads connecting every county seat in his District in order that his people may have the best of everything and be a contented and happy people.

Again we congratulate the Democracy of this the 35th Senatorial District in again re-nominating Senator Young.

EVERYBODY BOOST THE FAIR
Plans are being rapidly made to put over the community Fair again this fall only on a much larger scale. The catalog is being revised and will include many things of interest to those interested in needle work, baking of various products, sewing, farm products, school exhibits and many other thing of interest.

A new feature this year will also include a poultry show, probably the first ever held in Rowan county. Within the past several years there has been a widespread interest in keeping more and better poultry for this reason the fair committee desires to keep up this interest and make the show one of the outstanding features of the fair. The county agents of the neighboring counties have pledged their support in a loan of their pens and in other ways. These will be furnished free to the exhibitors as long as the supply lasts.

The success of the fair will depend largely upon the interest and cooperation of the people of the community. Last year the interest was far above what was looked for, it being the first fair. This year this record should be equalled and Rowan county should make a fine showing. The fair is to be run clean and for educational purposes only. It is not the desire of the fair committee to bring cheap shows to town and take money away from it, to display the talent of Rowan county and show what the true resources of our district are.

The dates for the fair have been set for October 7 and 8, which are about the same dates as last year. Boost the fair and help put it over.

Getting Ahead Financially

To reach the goal of financial independence—follow a definite investment program.

The investor who is willing to give some thought to the problem of increasing his income and capital usually speeds his arrival at unquestioned financial success.

This type of investor, as a rule, follows a definite investment program worked out to meet his individual needs.

If he hasn't the financial knowledge to map out a resultful program himself—and often when he has—he consults experts.

It is generally conceded that successful investments are largely the result of accurate knowledge and seasoned judgment.

The confidence and knowledge that important investors have can be followed by those who are less familiar with modern finances.

Public Utilities' Preferred Stocks are being bought by the largest investors in the country, as well as insurance companies, trustees for large sums of money, banks. These stocks are also favored by the millions of small investors who have learned to keep their money working at all times.

This Company offers you a 7% Preferred Stock, at par. You can keep familiarized with its doings because you see its properties and know of its plans and expansion.

QUEEN OF SHEBA'S GOLD

MINES FOUND IN AFRICA
The lost lands of Ophir, where the Queen of Sheba obtained the thirty-three tons of gold and jewels she gave to King Solomon, have been found in southern Arabia, 400 miles east of Aden, according to Comm. C. Crauford, a British naval officer who has searched for them twenty years, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. He reports that gold mines and precious stones are in the ground there, a veritable Transvaal of wealth, and that identification of the territory was made by means of inscriptions and the ruins of a temple.
